4. Caps

Group D: up to 20 payable qualified clients per Partner per country per calendar month. Qualified clients above the cap are not paid.

5. Volume bonus

The Partner earns a volume bonus for each calendar month based on the number of payable qualified clients in that month. The bonus is marginal: each rate applies only to the clients that fall within its bracket.

Payable qualified clients in the month	Bonus
Clients 1–25	No bonus
Clients 26–50	+10% of the average CPA, per client
Clients 51–100	+15% of the average CPA, per client
Clients 101 and above	+25% of the average CPA, per client

The average CPA is the total base CPA for all payable qualified clients in the month divided by their number. Because the bonus is calculated on the average, the order in which clients qualify during the month does not affect the amount.

> Example: 60 payable qualified clients in a month with total base CPA of $9,000, so the average CPA is $150. Bonus = 25 clients × 10% × $150 + 10 clients × 15% × $150 = $375 + $225 = $600. Total payment: $9,600.

Only clients that pass the quality review and fall within any applicable cap count towards the bonus. The volume bonus is subject to the same review as base CPA.

6. Payment

CPA Commission shall be calculated and paid monthly, between the 10th and 15th day of each month, following the Company's review, reconciliation and confirmation of the applicable qualification requirements, in accordance with the relevant provisions of the T&Cs.

Payments shall be made in respect of CPA Commissions confirmed as payable for the preceding month. Any CPA Commission amounts that remain provisional or deferred pending the Company's review shall be included in the first applicable monthly payment following the Company's confirmation that such amounts are payable, subject to the relevant provisions of the T&Cs.

7. Quality review

Meeting the conditions specified in this Commission Plan is necessary but not sufficient for payment of CPA Commission. Each Introduced Client considered for CPA Commission shall be subject to the Company's review of traffic quality and trading activity in accordance with the relevant provisions of the T&Cs.

The Company may assess individual Introduced Clients, all Introduced Clients introduced by an Affiliate collectively, or specific traffic sources for the purposes of determining eligibility for CPA Commission. Such assessments shall be conducted in accordance with the Company's internal policies, applied consistently to Affiliates.

Where insufficient recent performance history is available, including in the case of new or low-volume Affiliates, the Company may defer confirmation of CPA Commission pending completion of its review. No such Commission shall become payable until the Company confirms that all applicable qualification and quality requirements have been satisfied.

8. Changes

The Company may amend this Commission Plan at any time, at its sole discretion. Any amendments to the CPA qualification requirements shall apply to Introduced Clients who register on or after the effective date of the relevant amendment and shall not affect Introduced Clients registered before that date, including those already within their thirty (30) calendar day qualification period.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Company's rights to amend, suspend, discontinue or replace the applicable remuneration model shall remain governed by the relevant provisions of the T&Cs.
